“ Passion fills life and doesn't make you feel tired. ”
Daniilo Farinon

DANILO FARINON

Decormarmi's story coincides with the one of its founder Daniilo Farinon, who felt in love with sculpture since when he was a little child. It was like a thunderbolt that struck him and influenced all his life. In 1963 he built with his own hands the central part of the company that he baptizes with the name of Decormarmi. His children live and breathe in their father's passion and absorb his own enthusiasm, until when they decided to take the baton. Today Decormarmi counts about 40 employees in its laboratory that processes about 20 thousand tons of marble every year.

Technology and artisanship.

Each single part of the project has been translated thanks to vanguard technological systems that cut and dig under the control of the operator. The transformation from the machinery to the finished work passes through a series of code operations that the company expertise makes excellent: from the cutting list, to the fractionation of the project with criteria of position, size and color, to the following steps with high artisan skill. The highly specialized personnel in Decormarmi certify each step.
